

A landscape photograph featuring a dirt road that leads towards a hill in the distance. On the hill, three crosses are visible against the sky. The sky is filled with large, dramatic clouds, with a bright light source behind them, creating a golden glow and long shadows. The overall mood is contemplative and spiritual.

Passion for the Lost

Romans 9:1-3

Main Idea

The lostness of people must ignite evangelistic passion in us.

Evangelistic Passion

Demands Sincere Reflection

Romans 9:1

Evangelistic Passion

Grips Us Emotionally

Romans 9:2

Evangelistic Passion

Requires an Awareness of People's Lostness

Romans 9:3-5

Evangelistic Passion

Demands Sacrifice

Romans 9:3

Conclusion

Do you ever grieve? Are you ever burdened? Do you sacrifice? Does the lostness of humanity cause you to want to jeopardize your life to save some? Does the love of God compel you to plead with the lost to be saved?